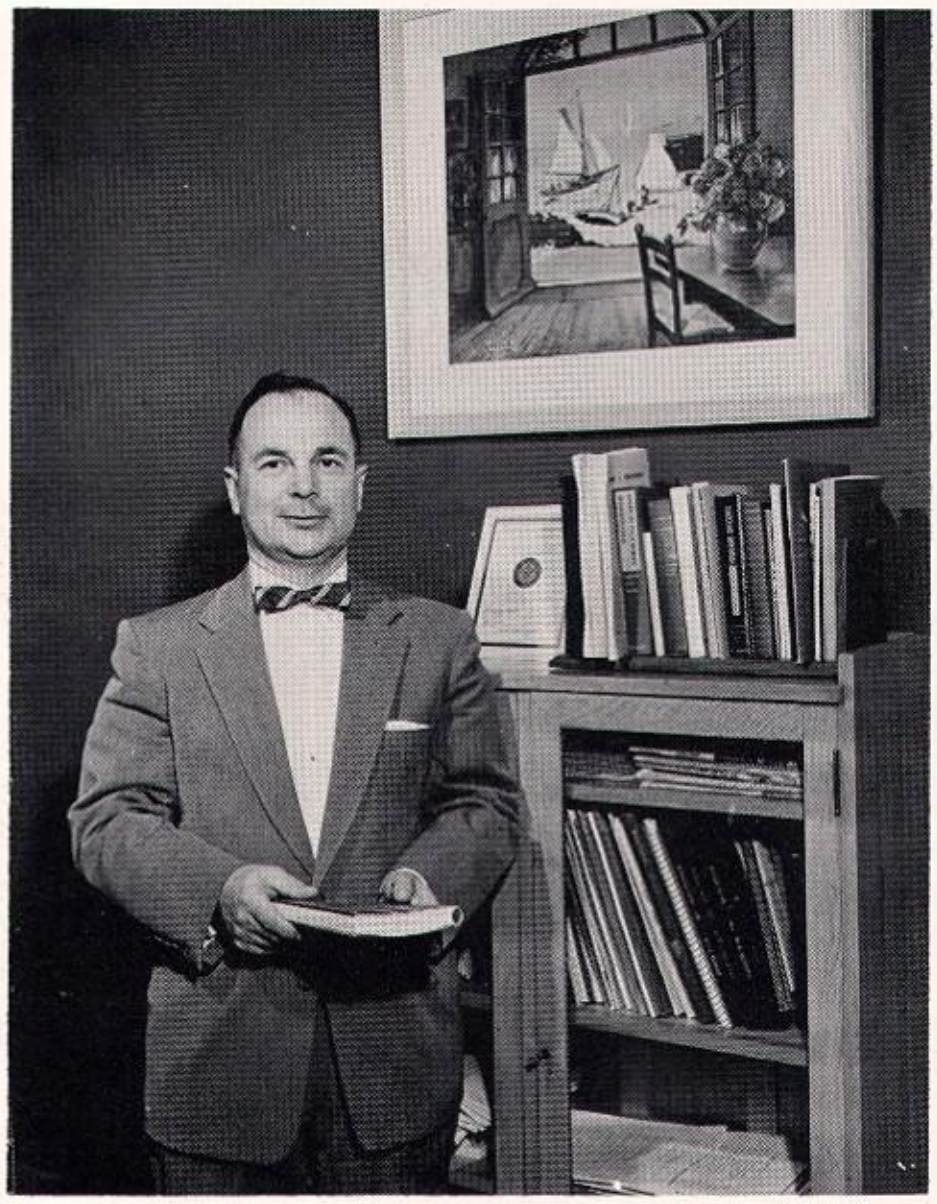
DEDICATION

Mr. Clifford Ingwell, our advisor for four years, has served us well as guide and counselor in our activities, giving willingly of his time and energy to make everything we did successful. We, the annual staff, on behalf of all seniors, dedicate this 1957 President to Mr. Ingwell, a man who has more than earned our deepest appreciation.

THE ADMINISTRATION



Principal

Summer school teaching, workshops at various colleges and the University of Minnesota during the year, and meetings of administrators in other parts of the country are the means used by our principal, Mr. Gordon E. Miniclier, to keep in constant touch with developments in education. This information harvested at these sources enables him to give new and fresh seeds or ideas to each "crop" or group of incoming students at Washington Senior High School and keep abreast of problems as they arise. We as seniors are deeply grateful for his guidance and encouragement during our four years at Washington Senior High School and will remember it in years to come.

Assistant Principal

Mr. George Kirkeby, our genial but firm assistant principal, has earned the respect and affection of the senior class in his two years at Washington Senior High School. His background in counseling is evident in the manner and approach he uses with the many problems that are his responsibility. To keep the harvest of the school year even and good is his main objective, because it is not enough to plant the seed, it must be cared for all the way. The senior class takes this opportunity to thank Mr. Kirkeby for helping to make our years at Washington pleasant and profitable.

Underclassmen

(Thistles)

Dave Ellis, Bucky Kendig, and George Christea, with two Como freshmen, show their reaction to Elvis Presley, a star who affected the 1956-7 sophomore girls quite differently.

The Sophomore Class

Advisor Daniel Hansen directed the sophomores in their first class-sponsored activities, a student-faculty basketball game and a class picnic in the spring. While the "thistles" of Washington's field showed themselves to be an enthusiastic and lively group, they give promise of being good harvesters in their turn.

This was the first class in Washington's history that did not have a freshman class to "initiate."

The Junior Class

Record profit of $315 was made by the junior class under the direction of Miss DeEtte Knowlton, advisor, and Corrine Ulbrich, student chairman, in the Christmas card sale that was the first major job of the year. Moving toward the harvest of the high school years, the juniors grew in ability to handle responsibilities.

Faye Webber, Dick Brady, Margie Mondry, Doris Roberson, Judy Thompson, Jeff Szalapski, Dennis Gilson, and Kurt Dey selected the class rings. Donna Le Vasseur, Sharon Jacobs, Mary Wolkerstorfer, Doris Roberson, Janice Koch, Pat Rollinger, Marcelia Orlando, and Carol Dolezal helped in card sales.

Breaking with tradition, the class chose the Hotel Lowry as the scene of the gala Prom on May 10.

Officers were Dennis Gilson, president; Kathy Zangs, vice-president; Kurt Dey, treasurer; and Geri Trantham, secretary.

Rich Harvest of The Years

As new seeds, we, the freshmen of 1953, were sown in this, Washington High School field of learning. We came ready to grow, mature and become intelligent, useful people. As we progressed our roots began to deepen and spread in different directions. Socially, we remember our Freshman Day and our Freshman Mixer where we met our classmates for the first time. This was a day waited for and enjoyed by all. Also we began to branch into knowledge and the way of high school living.

Next we became sophomores. Yes, we had broken the crust of the earth and begun to grow upward. This year we chose leaders. Mr. Clifford Ingwell became our class advisor; Jim Syvertson, president; Karen Richards, secretary; Geri Younghans, vice president; Bob Olson, treasurer.

We as a group organized and enjoyed our traditional Sophomore class picnic and the student-faculty basketball game.

Having increased in stature and developed our minds, we now began to enjoy the sunlight. It was our junior year, 1956. Our class president was Tom Sager; vice president, Darlene Fudenberg; secretary, Karen Richards; treasurer, Jim Syvertson.

This year our responsibilities increased. We sold Christmas cards, selected class rings, staged a Junior Review, chose Girls' State representative Darlene Fudenberg and Boys' State representative Bill Maloney and being upperclassmen now set good study habit examples for the underclassmen. But with all responsibility comes some privilege. Our privilege was our very enjoyable Junior-Senior Prom. And with this prom we ended the year with many happy memories.

Harvest time is almost here, we are ripe and in full bloom, as seniors we end our high school career.

To lead us through this year, Bob Olson, president; Pat Bohdan, vice president; Nancy Chamberlin, secretary; and Don Cincotta, treasurer, were elected.

Then came Homecoming. Queen Darlene Fudenberg and King Bob Olson reigned over our assembly, parade, football game, and dance with great pomp. Before the excitement of homecoming had passed we were in the midst of senior class play rehearsals. The zany comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," and also the operetta "Meet Arizona," were a delight to all.

Spring is nearing, time to fit our caps and gowns. A calm sadness overcomes us, we now begin to realize what Washington High School has done for and means to us.

Harvest is here. We are plucked from our roots and sent to fulfill our purpose in life. We have been prepared by Washington High School for the better and greater things ahead.

We want all the world to look upon our senior class and say, "This has been a truly good harvest."

Executive Board and Student Council

Behind the high-lights of any school year is the Student Council with its ever-present desire to boost school spirit and morale and direct many major activities.

"United we stand"—The democratic management of the Washington High School student body and the planning and organizing of the many Prexie activities such as Snow Day, Homecoming and Canteens, is the job quite ably done by the Student Council Executive Board, under the direction of Mr. Robert Turner.

The president of the Student Council was Monte Sweazy, and the other officers were Ruth Hesse, vice-president; Pat Hennessey, secretary and Lily Nickos, treasurer.

"By the people, for the people and of the people"—The student council, also under the direction of Mr. Robert Turner, is made up of a representative and an alternate elected from each homeroom. The representatives read and discuss the minutes of each council meeting in their homeroom and bring the ideas of the students to the next meeting.

The Surveyor Staff

Under the direction of lively Editor Janis Schotl, the Surveyor staff prepared 12 issues of a new full-sized school newspaper. News editor Kathy Zangs deserves credit also in gathering and arranging the news and gossip. The staff: Don Kieger and Ron Ronquist, Sports Editors; Geri Younghans, Sandy Tipcke, Pearl Johanson, editorials; Photographer, Jerry Thomas; Typists, Norm Moser, Joyce Behrendt, Mary Wolkerstorfer; Business Manager, Dick Brady. Mr. O. Andvik is advisor.

The President Staff

Greatly improved photography and a new idea in page layout that plays up seniors are the main features of the 1957 President produced under Co-Editors Joan Lokowich and Jacquelyn Miller. Because we have a smaller faculty and no freshmen, the extra senior pages do not interfere with other classes and activities. Maureen Reilly was the artist, Jerry Thomas, student photographer, Mr. Firmin Alexander and Mr. O. Andvik, business and editorial advisors.

The Prexie Band

One of the smallest bands in Washington High School's history because of the loss of a freshman class, Director Robert Grunenfelder's 22 musicians made up in pep and enthusiasm for the lack of size. At solemn moments such as Homecoming and Snow Day royal marches and senior graduation, and at boisterous gatherings such as athletic events and pep assemblies the band added the needed touch. Members were impressive in their well-rehearsed concerts, too, at Christmas and in the spring.

The Pep Club

"We want a cheer," is the hearty cry heard from the Washington bleachers as the faithful pep club members take their places to cheer our teams on to another victory.

The pep club under the direction of Mr. Robert Turner (officers are Pat Bodhan, president; Kathy Zangs, vice president; Nancy Chamberlin, secretary; and Mary Lou Morrow, treasurer) is in its third year at Washington and judging by its record enrollment and a bigger attendance at games it has become an invaluable part of Washington High School.

Washington High

One of the highlights of the school year was the "A" Choir's presentation of a gay Fred Waring arrangement of " 'Twas the Night Before Christmas" at the holiday assembly. The complicated and lengthy arrangement was performed effortlessly by members under the direction of Miss DeEtte Knowlton, director of vocal and choral music at Washington Senior High School.

This program was one of many sparkling appearances of the choir in concerts and at assemblies. The traditional Christmas program drew a capacity audience, while the lively, sunny operetta, "Meet Arizona," gave hundreds a musical and dramatic picture of life in the Southwest. One of the choir's most colorful programs was the Spring Concert.

Phil Alesso was president of the 1956-57 "A" Choir, Darlene Fudenberg, vice president; Ruth Hesse, treasurer; Jim Gill, robe custodian; Janis Schotl, librarian; and Nancy Jahnke and Bob Worlickey, attendance. Ruth Hesse completed her third and final year as accompanist for the choir, a job demanding a high degree of skill and talent.

The Commercial Club

Problems students will meet in the business world and advanced machines for a wide variety of jobs are discussed at monthly meetings and inspected first-hand in visits to downtown offices by members of Washington's Commercial Club. Projects to aid the school, talks by members of the business world, and study sessions complete the list of activities engaged in by the juniors and seniors in the club.

Activities are directed by Miss Margaret Wallblom, advisor, and the following officers during 1956-57: Pat Bohdan, president; Marjorie Handt, vice president; and Darlene Fudenberg, secretary-treasurer.

The Occup-Relations Club

As the only state-affiliated club at Washington High School, the Co-operative Part Time Training Class is in its fourth year under the advisorship of Miss Ursula Sweeney. Students work in office during a half of each school day.

Officers are Alexandra Miller, president; Floyd White, vice-president; secretary, Elaine Goschy; treasurer, Pat Drackert.

The Y-Teens

"Service dedicated to friendship" is the motto of the Y-Teens organization. Besides their many worthwhile projects such as "lagging for the free bed fund," Y-Teens sponsors gay social activities such as sleigh-rides and dances.

The adviser of Y-Teens is Miss Zarm Keljic. The officers were: Karen Richards, president; Aida Anderson, vice president; Sandy Finney, secretary; Judy Ingemann, treasurer.

"Teens Against Polio," was one of the projects taken on by Washington's active Jr. Red Cross under the direction of Mr. Daniel Hansen. Throughout the year this club, in mercy and goodness, visits Gilette Hospital to decorate for parties or to take down decorations from a previous festivity, helps on the bloodmobile, and works at the Red Cross Center stuffing envelopes, and sticking labels on bottles of blood plasma.

The officers for the year were: Larry Madigan, president; Donna Phenicie, vice president; and Daisy Frieberg, treasurer.

The Historical Society

Keeping records is the job of the Historical Society, under the advisorship of Miss Mary O'Keefe. The officers, who were Pat Simpson, president; Sharon Brunell, vice-president; Donna Phenicie, secretary; and Arlene Leier, treasurer; and the staff preserve the records of Washington prexies during the year and also keep records of the happenings of all alumni. Throughout the year the society places in the display case, clippings of interest from the newspapers, about our present prexies and those who have graduated.

Future Homemakers

Learning for tomorrow—the girls truly interested in homemaking, under the direction of Mrs. Ila Osman, meet to develop skills in sewing, cooking, home decoration and child care. FHA sponsors many activities for fun and advancement in the art of homemaking at the fair, and sends a member to the Homemaking Career Workshop at the University of Minnesota.

FHA officers were Kathy Zangs, president; Donna Le Vasseur, vice president; Sharon Klemz, secretary; Fay Webber, treasurer.

Future Teachers

"On to school"—say the energetic members of the FTA, an organization found by its members to be very rewarding and the experience given them through their club invaluable. Through Mr. Gordon Miniclier, principal, members arrange to visit grade or junior high schools where they may observe and help in a classroom of their choice.

The club is under the direction of Mr. Robert Turner and officers were Joan Lokowich, president; Gerry Younghans, vice president; Pat Hennessey and Doris Roberson, secretaries; and Barbara Mutch, treasurer.

ROW ONE: D. Phenicie, B. Kramer, J. Podjaski, J. Lokowich, P. Hennessey, M. Behnke. ROW TWO: B. Hasse, A. Tollas, A. Anderson, R. Jinschlag D. Roberson.

The Camera Club

Active once again is Washington's Camera Club under the advisorship of Mr. Elmer Bjornson. The group snaps pictures, learns dark-room procedure. and take a club trip where subjects are photographed. Officers are Jerry Thomas, president; Geri Massel, vice president; David Friedl, secretary-treasurer. The club has quite a complete set of dark-room equipment and cameras for use by members.

The Sketch Club

"Hold that pose"—say the creative members of the sketch club.

Sketching for their own enjoyment and making favors and cards for the cancer hospital are a few of their worthwhile projects.

The advisor for the sketch club is Miss Bessie Mulholland and club officers are John Brandt, president; Don Bedner, vice president; Arta Gustafson, secretary; and Judy Prochaska, treasurer.

The 'Black Friars'

Activities engaged in by the "Black Friars," Washington's dramatic club, this year included radio programs, programs for hospitals, and their important behind-the-scenes work with the Senior Class Play, "You Can't Take It With You."

Officers were Susan Hruby, president; Sarah Anderson, vice president; Pat Bohdan, secretary; Darlene Fudenberg, treasurer; and "Point Chairman," Maureen Reilly. Miss Zarm Keljic is the advisor for the group.

The Stage Crew

Learning to handle stage equipment valued in hundreds of dollars, and gaining experience in providing smooth backgrounds for all types of performances from assemblies to professional stage productions is the learning acquired each year by the hard-working stage crew under the direction of Mr. Allen Cuthbert. Only when they had to come "out front" to "change sets" was the student body aware of the boys keeping things rolling.

Creative Writing Club

In its first year at Washington Senior High School, the Creative Writing Club is an active part of the new club program getting underway for the purpose of offering better ranges in student extra-curricular activities. This group tries writing of all kinds from poems to short stories. Christmas poems composed by members of the group were printed in the Surveyor. Mrs. Mary Hafner is the advisor.

The AVO Club

"O.K., turn the lights off." The audio visual organization, under the direction of Mr. Allen Cuthbert, plays a very important role in making classes more interesting and subjects easier to learn. These are the trained students behind the films. Besides setting up and operating the many devices used by the different classes, the boys in AVO spend many hours throughout the year checking and maintaining their equipment.

The Athletic Board

With Mr. Firmin Alexander, athletic director, as chairman, Washington High School's Athletic Board directs the Prexies' many-sided sports program during the school year, setting policies, promoting wide participation in athletics, handling equipment budgets, and making certain only qualified students and healthy students enter the program. With their wide experience, members of the board are able to maintain an efficient, interesting schedule of activities all year.

Washington's Cheerleaders

Washington's veteran "A" Squad cheerleaders, captained for the third year by vivacious Darlene Fudenberg, showed during 1956-57 a polish and perfection that could only come from long hours of morning practice. Presenting new yells, new routines with pep and snap, the girls made pep assemblies just that—peppy. Cheerleader candidates must meet a long list of qualifications before their selection by a faculty committee. Mr. Robert Turner is advisor.

G. A. A. Board and Girl's "W" Club

Pictured above are the eleven girls who, under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Gould, headed the yearly activities of one of Washington High School's largest and most active organizations, the Girls' Athletic Association.

The GAA Board officers are as follows: Nancy Chamberlin, president; Carol Kaiser, vice president; Judy Ingemann, secretary-treasurer; Janis Koch, recording secretary; Susan Hruby, social chairman; Sarah Anderson, co-social chairman; Sandy Finney and Patricia Angle, fieldball and basketball; Marcelia Orlando and Rochelle Peloquin, volleyball and softball; Audrey Tollas, Rap-in-Wax.

Below are members of the girls' "W" Club, a select group within GAA in which each girl has earned more than one thousand points by participating in almost all activities scheduled. This group is awarded letters at an annual spring banquet attended by alumnae.

Coach Skalbeck's Last Prexie Eleven

A small but fighting Prexie 1956-57 football squad gave all it had to make Coach Archie Skableck's final year as Washington mentor a good one. Retiring after thirteen years as coach, Mr. Skableck saw his final team improve steadily as the season progressed, giving some scares to the league's top clubs. The one-win, six-losses record does not reflect the hard-fighting spirit that Mr. Skalbeck said made the season as satisfying as some more successful ones were. The one victory against Wilson's Redmen climaxed Washington's gala Homecoming.

Junior Eleven

Coach Robert Ryan's "B" squad football team missed the annual incoming freshman material as Washington became a senior high school. A lighter squad lost all four games of its regular schedule against Johnson, Harding, Central, and Wilson. Art Busse and Louis Grittner were among the players showing promise of a bright future with the "A" Squad. A much larger sophomore class next year will fill "B" Squad ranks again, Mr. Ryan said.

Varsity Track Team

The Prexies' varsity track team under Coach Allen Cuthbert won only one meet in the season and had five losses. Even with a poor season, the boys did their best to win. In track it is the individual who wins. But in other sports it is team work. The track team does not get any of the glory shared by the major sports, but the effort is just as grueling.

Prexie "A" Squad Cagers

Prexies ended the 1956-1957 basketball season by losing the first Play-Off game to Humboldt. Although the Prexies didn't have a winning season, their fight and drive and the will to win was there all the time. The Prexies were paced by the two leading scorers, forward Dick Klemz and Captain Don Keiger. The Prexies beat Monroe in the first game of the season in an over time by a score of 49-44. Then the Prexies won in another thriller against Harding by a score of 40-36. The Prexies couldn't seem to find themselves until the latter part of the season when they lost two heart-breakers to Johnson and Mechanic Arts by two points.

Junior Cagers

Captain Fred Thunhorst (center and far right), is the 1956-57 "B" Squad's most promising contribution to future varsity quintets at Washington. Coach Bob Ryan's boys had no freshmen reinforcements this year, won no victories, but progressed to a final thriller against a strong Murray team and lost in an overtime.

Varsity Tennis

Coach Byron Gibbs' 1956 tennis team had a three-win, five-loss season against a tough conference made up of many larger squads than Washington produces on the average. Gerald Teich and Robert Nagle were the Prexie mainstays in individual and doubles play.

Prexie Varsity Puckmen

Coach Bob Turner led the Prexie puckmen into third place in the city conference and placed one man on the All-City squad. The fast skating boy was Rick Prudhomme,

In the Plays-Offs the Prexies won their first game by beating Mechanic Arts, 5-1, but when the prexies played Murray they lost 4-3 in five over time periods, setting a record for length in city hockey history. Jerry Griffith received an honorable mention on defense on all-city line-up.

Prexies won, 2-0. BOTTOM: Jack Welsh and Jerry Griffith run into trouble when they played against Central. Washington won. 1-0.

Gymnastics Team

Captain Tom Davenport was the only member again to enter the state tournament, competing in Class C. The team has nine members, two seniors, and seven sophomores. "Things will be better next year," says Mr. Clifford Ingwell, the coach. The squad placed eighth in the city conference, beating only Humboldt. Dick Jones was top scorer in Class D, while Dick Portner, sophomore, showed most improvement in Class D.

Swimmers

Cross Country

Coach Dan Hansen with Bob Lassen and Ron Roelofs, RIGHT: made valiant strides in cross-country events along with senior Tom Davenport. Roelofs, sophomore, won first against Johnson and was 43 in field of 150 runners in city meet.

1956 State Champions:

Prexie Nine Wins State Title

Washington's 1956 Prexies won Minnesota high schools' little world series. The champions were undefeated in 18 straight games. They had a power-packed lineup from the first to the ninth. It was the only time in history that a team has won our state high school tournament twice. On top of being a power-hitting team, the Prexies had an air-tight defense. Backed up by the All-State and All-City players John Erickson, Jim Rantz, Milo Fuller, and All-City player Tom Sager, the Prexies earned many laurels paced by these boys.

The Prexies' state hopes began when they defeated Wilson, 2-1, in the City Championship game. The boys felt after this victory they could go all the way.

The Prexies then won the Twin City game from Patrick Henry, 7-2. They then went on to the regionals where they defeated Anoka in the first game, then won the championship by beating St. Peter in a nip and tuck pitching battle by score of 3-0.

In the first game of the state they defeated Fairfax, 5 to 1. In the second game the Prexies beat a powerful Edina nine which was favored to win the tournament, 5-0. Then the final step to the Championship game in which they won the state title by defeating Bemidji, 4 to 2. Coach Harry Nelson coached and sweated every step with his boys.

Prexies' "W" Club

Washington's growing Lettermen's Club with Bob Olson as president; Tom Sager, vice-president; and Tom Daulton, secretary-treasurer; presented its fourth annual dinner as a principal event of the year for this all-around club. The club representing the Prexies has true school spirit, excellent sportsmanship, and is always trying to promote the reputation of the school. Mr. Harry Nelson is advisor.

Varsity Golfers

For the second straight year the Washington Golf team ended its season with four wins and four losses for a fourth place in the city conference. The teams they defeated were Wilson, Humboldt, Mechanic Arts, and Monroe. The Golf Team is coached by Mr. Firmin Alexander, and is open to any upper classmen in the top three grades.
